

Spooky Scary Skeletons

Transposition Inquisition No. 51

Andrew Gold
arr. Martorano

About the Composer:

Andrew Maurice Gold was an American multi-instrumentalist, singer, songwriter, and record producer who influenced much of the sound of Los Angeles-dominated pop rock in the 1970s. Gold played on scores of records by other artists, most notably Linda Ronstadt's, and had his own success with the U.S. Top 40 hits "Lonely Boy" (1977) and "Thank You for Being a Friend" (1978), as well as the UK Top Five hit "Never Let Her Slip Away" (1978).

About the Song:

Spooky Scary Skeletons is a 1996 Halloween song by Andrew Gold and is the most well-known of the songs from Gold's album Halloween Howls. On May 5, 2010, a video of the 1929 Disney cartoon "The Skeleton Dance" with the Spooky Scary Skeletons playing in the background was uploaded to YouTube. "Spooky Scary Skeletons" is now considered an anthem of the spooky internet subculture.
